

HAPPY TRAILS

Artifact 1

There's a sayin' around these parts
"25 miles in a 10-hour day,
that's how it goes on Old Pico's Way."

But I, Dandy Mike Brogan, have decided to carve a NEW route to the south. It will run the same distance as Old Pico's Way, but I've surveyed the terrain, and I think the going on my trail will be quite a bit faster. For the enjoyment of the folks reading my log, I have provided details of my travels.

Time of day	Distance Traveled (miles)	Notes
7 am	0	Still in camp Bacon sizzlin'
8 am	0	Hier in camp getting thick. Time to move on
12 pm	8	Found a steady pace, which can be matched with a good horse.
3 pm	14	Saw a purdy girl along the way, wish I had time to say howdy.
3:30 pm	15	Stopped to make coffee.
